PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS BIG QUESTION HERE

"Real Republican" and La-Follette Representatives
Will Confer

TWO MEETINGS HELD

Independent and Nonpartisan League Republicans Split Early Today

WITHDRAW OFFER

F. A. Vogel, chairman of the LaFollette campaign committee, withdrew an offer made to name a committee to confer with a Republican committee on the question of the status of presidential electors, shortly after it was made at the state capitol this afternoon.

tion of the naming of a slate of Coolidge presidential electors,
and the manner in which LaFollette electors shall be placed on the ballot in the fall election in doubt.

The Independent Republican members of the state central committee named B. F. Spalding and John Pollock, both of Fargo, chairman and secretary, respectively. Mr. Spalding said he would agree to name a successor later.

After an exchange of angry reports at the opening of a session announced at a meeting of members of the Republican state central embracing those favoring the election of Coolidge and Dawes, the committee got down to the first real business of today's political conferences here, early this afternoon.

A committee of three was named to confer with a like committee which F. A. Vogel of Colerabur, chairman of the LaFollette campaign committee, said he was willing to name, to discuss the status of Coolidge and LaFollette presidential electors. The committees were to meet this afternoon.

The Republicans desire that four of the five present Republican electors, held by them to be LaFollette men, shall withdraw, and permit avowed Coolidge electors to be named. The LaFollette forces are anxious to have their slate of electoral candidates grouped with LaFollette's name in some manner on the ballot.

A number of members of the Republican state central committee, lately elected, gathered in the state senate chamber shortly after noon today on the call of a voluntary committee composed of three members.
The meeting was called to order by George Robbins of Grand Forks.

Frazier Protests

Roy Frazier of Crosby, who has been chairman of the Republican state central committee, injected a protest, declaring he served as state chairman until his successor was chosen, and the committee, after an early meeting, had recessed until 2
p. m. A rather heated colloquy ensued, during which Frazier asserted he was recognized by the Republican national committee.

"This gentleman is not a member of this committee. He is a member of another central committee, the id one," said L. L. Twichell of Fargo.

"How the hell do you know?"
bellowed Frazier.

Frank Hyland of Devils Lake, adjutant-general, jumped to his feet.

"As long as this lady is here you are not going to use that language," he declared, "if I have to drag you out."

"I apologize for the language used on account of the threat," applied Frazier.

Mr. Hyland declared the Republican central committee were resent to do all they could for the Republican national committee, and suggested any not willing to join in should leave.

Leave Meeting

"Let's go," said someone, and several Nonpartisan Leaguers, who are Republican state committeemen, walked out.

The committee proceeded to name George Robbins chairman and John Pollock of Fargo secretary. A committee consisting of Jud LaMoore, Falter Bond and A. G. Divet was named to confer with a committee to be named by F. A. Vogel on the question of presidential electors.

Other matters to be taken up in a committee under the chairmanship of Mr. Robbins included the question of who shall be named by independents as a candidate against G. Sorlie for Governor—whether he be Halvor Halvorson, Democratic nominee, or some other person.

Questions Unsettled

As the four separate political conferences neared an end here today, no questions became uppermost in the minds of the political leaders of the sessions, which must be settled in order to take the situation out of

MANDAN FAIR
DAWNS BRIGHT

Many Fine Livestock Exhibits
Are at the Fair, Secretary Says

The third day of the Missouri Slope Fair, which closes tomorrow, opened in Mandan with a bright sun greeting visitors. The first day's crowd—Monday—was about 3,000 in the day and 3,000 at night, and was an unusually large day, according to Secretary Tobin. Yesterday's attendance was small, because so many farmers are busy in the fields. The pugnant given last night was attended by thousands of people, however.

The fair committee is well satisfied with the exhibits. A better swine exhibit than ever before is on the grounds, it is stated. Swine from Underwood, Sterling, Edgeley and Flasher are being shown, and cattle exhibited is entered from distances as far as Lewistown, Montana, and Hannaford, North Dakota.

There is a fine quality of poultry on exhibit, indicating progress in poultry raising on the Missouri Slope.
The woman's exhibit is declared unusually good, as is the display of Indian handwork and farm machinery.

Running races are the chief track events of the afternoon. Tonight the pageant is repeated and tomorrow night there is fireworks.

The historical pageant depicts early scenes in Mandan, and the scores of actors in it were greeted with applause last night.

General Weather Conditions

No well defined storm area appears on the weather map this morning but there is a light depression over the northern Plains States,
with high pressure over the Ohio Valley and over the Pacific Northwest. A few light showers occurred in the extreme west but elsewhere in all sections the weather is fair.
Temperatures have risen somewhat in the Rocky Mountain States; elsewhere temperature changes have been slight.

North Dakota Corn and Wheat Region Summary

For the week ending September 2, 1924

Excellent weather for farm work prevailed throughout the week. Harvesting of all crops except flax has been completed in practically all sections; some early flax is being cut. Three-hundred rapid progress with good to excellent yields. The hot days during the early part of the week caused corn to develop rapidly.
It is mostly in the milk stage, though some is already out of danger of frost. Much potato digging is being done in sections, with good results. Hay is nearing completion. Pastures and ranges need rain in some sections.

WESTERN N. D.
SOON WILL BE FLOURISHING

War Finance Representative Says It Will Be Able To Finance Itself

POINTS TO PROGRESS

District on This Year's Crop Is Told

"The western third of North Dakota will have enough money to finance itself, except for farm loans
after the present crop is marketed, if present prices are maintained," F.
G. Orr, field representative of the War Finance representative and pioneer Missouri Slope banker and business man, declared here today.

Remarkable improvement in banking conditions is expected by Mr. Orr when the present good crop is harvested. Three-fourths of the banks will pay off all borrowed money, including War Finance Corporation
loans, and the surplus over reserve requirements will be sufficient to cover the balances which will have to be carried over by about one-fourth of the banks, Mr. Orr added.

"So this portion of the state will stand on its own," financially, for the first time in nine years," Mr.
Orr continued. This has been done by making a few cows, raising a few hogs and good flocks of chickens and turkeys, and making their first business to raise feed for this stock. In addition, as much grain has been planted as the power and help on the farm would permit. Employment of help has been discontinued and the farming operations reduced to a point where the family does most of the work. The result is that the farmer, goes ahead by leaps and bounds,
financially, on a good crop and fair price like the present, and is able
reduction of debts."

Organize Operations

"Another big factor is that most farmers in the territory mentioned have organized their farming operations so that they are able to pay the expenses of operation even on poor crops and in poor price years,
such as have been experienced," Mr.
Orr continued. This has been done
by making a few cows, raising a few hogs and good flocks of chickens and
turkeys, and making their first busi-
farm would permit. Employment of
help has been discontinued and the
farming operations reduced to a point where the family does most of the work. The result is that the farmer,
goes ahead by leaps and bounds,
financially, on a good crop and fair
reduction of debts."

North Dakota Raises Fine Crop on Less Than Normal Rainfall

Western North Dakota has one of its best crops in years, and on rainfall and other precipitation that is 1.37 inches less than the average for the year.

The monthly meteorological summary, issued by the weather bureau today, shows that the total precipitation during the month of August was 1.91 inches, which was 0.07 inches less than normal for the month. The accumulated deficiency in precipitation since the first of the year is given as 1.37 inches.

The mild winter and cool summer have brought about an average temperature for the year thus far that is but one degree daily above normal, the summary shows. The report shows that August was 1.4 degrees daily cooler than normal for the month. The percentage of sunshine was five below normal.

PLANS FAIR
ATTRACTIONS

Killdeer, Sept. 3.—Arrangements are being made to bring carnival and show attractions to the annual Dunn county fair, which will be held at Killdeer on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 25, 26, and 27. The premises are all provided for by the residents of Killdeer, which bears all the expenses of the fair. Dunn being a young county, with no village of over 600 population within its borders, it depends more upon the competencies of its exhibitors, than upon the amusement features.

Stark Has
Bryan-Davis Club

Dickinson, Sept. 3.—Stark county
Democrats have organized a Davis-Bryan club, with A. C. Pagenkopf as president, Mrs. E. A. Lillibridge vice president, and Miss Eleanor Smith chosen secretary-treasurer. Regular meetings will be held on the second and fourth Mondays of the month.

Shanghai, China, Sept. 3.—(By the
A. P.)—With fighting at Hwangtu, near here, in progress at four o'clock this afternoon between the contending armies of two rival provincial Chinese governments, reports here indicated the battle extended to Awosung.

Although a large number of troops are engaged in the conflict, reports from Chekiang say that no material advantage has been gained by either side.

It is said that the engagements today are preliminary to a major battle at Mansang tomorrow, 12 miles from Shanghai. According to information from Lund Whi military headquarters, the third shot was fired at

Nervous Breakdown Is Said
To Have Caused Prof.
Taylor to Take Life

Grand Forks, N. D., Sept. 3.— Prof. John Adams Taylor, 40, formerly English instructor at the University of North Dakota, whose body was found in the Niagara river near Niagara Falls, N. Y., committed suicide, police of the City of Niagara Falls believe, according to a news dispatch received from that point.

Relatives have advanced the theory that Taylor accidentally fell off a Toronto boat.

Mrs. Almira Taylor, wife of the professor, arrived at Niagara Falls
from her home at Cincinnati, Ohio,
and confirmed the identification
made by relatives of the dead man who came from Taylor's old home
at Westford, Mass.

Professor Taylor had suffered a nervous breakdown before being granted a leave of absence about a year ago. He was returning to his wife's home in Cincinnati after a tour through Europe. Relatives failed to hear from him and went to Niagara Falls several days ago.

W. R. Taylor of Westford, Mass., a brother, and F. A. Snow of Lowell, Mass., a brother-in-law, identified the body. Taylor's baggage was found in the railroad station at Buffalo, N. Y.

LEOPOLD WRITES LAST WILL IN EVENT HE RECEIVES THE DEATH PENALTY

Co-Slayer of Robert Franks Writes Darrow That He Wants To Live, After Hearing Closing Argument of His Attorney in Murder Case

Chicago, Sept. 3.—The last will and testament of Nathan F. Leopold Jr., joint confessor with Richard Loeb of the kidnapping and murder of Robert Franks, has become public.

That Leopold contemplates the possibility of receiving a death sentence at the hands of Judge Caverly, who now has the murder case under consideration is evinced by a letter he has mailed to Clarence F.
Darrow, counsel for the Leopold-Loeb defense.

The letter, which is seven pages long, bequeaths to the Field Museum first choice of any five objects in Leopold's ornithological collection.

Next choice is given to a cousin of Leopold, who may choose any three articles after the Field Museum has made its selection. Third, the Museum is given the choice of any birds, minerals or transcripts in the possession of his family belonging to the confessed slayer.

In the letter Leopold asks Darrow
to notify the beneficiaries as soon as possible—and before his execution. The letter also thanked Darrow for his closing argument. Leopold wrote that he had been content to die before he heard that argument, but that after hearing it he wanted to live.

The last will was scratched out under a county jail are light on a paper supplied by the jailer.

PIPE, TOBACCO PUT IN COFFIN

Julmarch, Bohemia, Sept. 3.— (By the A. P.)—Old Werner Bauer farmer of Ebersbach, near that in his will he requested that his pipe and tobacco pouch be buried with him. When he died the other day his wife honored his wishes and of her own accord added a box of matches.

REDRAFTING ARMS PACT IS

Premier Herriot of France
Meets Great Reception
in Switzerland

Geneva, Sept. 3.—Republican Geneva, accustomed to greatness within its borders, rarely gets excited over a distinguished visitor, but last night it flung its reserve aside and gave to Premier Herriot, of France,
one of the most enthusiastic greetings in its history. Huge crowds waited for hours to greet the premier with cries of "Vive Herriot."

Hundreds rushed to him and then,
inaugurating a serenade, sought insistently, though vainly, to have M.
Herriot come to the hotel balcony
and make a speech.

Redrafting of Pact

But there was another development of great importance, which possessed peculiar American interest. This was the redrafting of a pact for disarmament and security by a committee of its American authors, who are now in Geneva, and presentation of the new text to M.
Herriot. Professor James T. Shotwell and David H. Miller, at the invitation of M. Herriot went to Lyons to spend two hours explaining the new American draft, which is attracting attention in all the leading delegations.

Prof. Shotwell, General Tasker
Bliss and Mr. Miller, working at Geneva, have put the first 11 clauses of their original text into a separate declaration which is called "outlawry of aggressive war." This declaration is cast in the form of a treaty so that the powers accepting
it may be bound to a contrary.

To this treaty, which labels as an aggressor nation any country which declines the jurisdiction of the world court when disputes arise between states, has been added an entirely new article whereby the signatories recognize that excessive armaments constitute a war menace and agree to participate in a permanent advisory conference on disarmament,
to be decided upon by the present assembly of the league of nations.

Then comes the first resolution, by which the assembly requests the council to call a permanent advisory conference on disarmament, which shall meet periodically at intervals of not less than once every three years.

The second resolution requests the council of the league to establish a permanent international committee of investigation of armaments in all countries.

The third resolution authorizes the signatories powers to conclude between themselves a separate agreement which would be complementary to the treaty of outlawry of aggressive war.

Mitchell Field, N. Y., Sept. 3.— America's earth girdling aviators are expected to reach Mitchell Field at 3 p. m. next Sunday.

This was announced today by Major General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the army air service, who came here to discuss the details of the arrangement for the flight.

The fliers are expected at Boston Thursday afternoon.
General Patrick said, announcing that present plans called for their departure from Pictou, N. S., Thursday morning. At Boston the fliers will exchange the pontoons on their machines for earth landing equipment.

General Patrick will fly from here for Boston tomorrow.

BOSTON PLANS WELCOME

Boston, Sept. 3.—A royal welcome awaits the army world fliers when they return to home soil here, as follows:

"I ask that the citizens of Boston fly national flags from their homes and houses; I direct that similar decorations be made on all schools and public buildings; and I trust that our people will assemble in great numbers on Boston Common, that these heroic men may learn the place they have made for themselves in American hearts."

JEWELRY LOOT TAKEN DURING TUESDAY NIGHT

Albert Johnson Store Entered, Watches, Rings, Other

Entrance—Loss Not Covered By Insurance

Mandan, N. D., Sept. 3.— Cracksmen last night obtained approximately $8,000 worth of jewelry from the safe of the Albert Johnson Jewelry store in Mandan.

The loss was discovered about 8 o'clock this morning when employees came to the store to open it for business.

Entrance to the store was gained through a transom over the front door which the yeggs "jimmied." The dial and combination of the safe was knocked off and the vault opened. Approximately 80 watches, which had been left for repair, most of them expensive watches belonging to railroad men, new watches, diamond rings, a large number of gold charms and platinum pieces were included in the loot. Mr. Johnson estimated his loss at between $7,000 and $8,000. A careful check was being made today.

The yeggs previously had broken into the warehouse of
the Goodrich Construction Company and obtained the tools used on the job. It is believed that two or three men did the work.

No insurance was carried except the detective protection offered by membership in the National Jewelers' Alliance.

WORLD FLIERS ARE ANOTHER
STEP FARTHER

Planes Fly to Hawkes Bay From Ice Tickle, Labrador, Easily

PLAN TO GO AHEAD

Will Get Fine Reception in U. S. — Expected in Mitchell Field Sunday

Hawkes Bay, N. F., Sept. 3.— (By the A. P.)—The American army aviators on their world
at 12:40 p. m. It was raining and a south west wind blowing at 30 miles an hour, when the fliers hopped off. The clouds were less than 1000 feet from the surface, and the machine kept a low altitude, flying just above the waves. At 12:05 the aviators passed over the cruiser Milwaukee, 100 miles from the bay.

Hawkes Bay, N. F., Sept. 3.—The American world fliers today are one step farther in their task of girdling the world.

The planes of Lieut. Lowell H.
Smith and Lieut. Erik Nelson are resting on the waters of Hawkes Bay, to which point they flew yesterday from Ice Tickle, Labrador.

Starting from Ice Tickle in good flying weather, the American aviators drove their planes steadily forward under fine conditions until over Belle Isle Straits and along the coast of Newfoundland where they were beset by rain and fog and a 30 mile head wind.

With the populace awaiting them, the planes broke through the fog and came to the waters of Hawkes Bay at 3:48 p. m. Eastern standard time, having made the voyage from Labudor in 5 hours and 45 minutes.

Shortly after coming down Smith and Nelson taxied their craft to the yellow buoys which, owing to the heavy seas which were running, had been laid on the windward side of Hawkes Bay and within two minutes had tied up to them.

The aviators spent this evening tuning up their engines and refuelling preparatory to proceeding tomorrow on the next leg of their journey, Pictou Harbor, Nova Scotia, 420 miles distant. The destroyer Charles Ausburne is standing by the aviators.

URGES CARE
IN SCHOOLS

Danger Minimized

With the opening of school in various parts of the state, State Fire Marshal H. L. Reade has issued the following statement:

"The school year has in some cases just begun and all will be in full swing very soon and it is the duty of all those charged with the equipment of all school buildings in this state to carefully inspect the buildings in their charge to see that everything is in safe condition and especially to before the fires are started a little later on. Furnaces, stoves, electric wiring, heating plants of all kinds in use, fire escapes, doors on all class rooms and especially those leading to fire escapes and exits
should be placed in good condition, all opening outward, as provided by law, and to protect the life and limb
of the children and teachers who congregate therein. The janitor should be required to remain at the school building during school hours.

"Special attention should be given by officers and patrons of schools to see that the provisions of the Laws of the State regarding fire drills in schools are rigidly enforced, and, any clerk who draws a teacher's salary warrant before such superintendent or teacher has certified that such fire drills have been held, be punished as provided by law. Too little attention is given to this most important matter. Let us all cooperate so that we will have nothing to regret in the way of fire or panic in the schools of North Dakota the coming year and let us begin fire prevention by education rather than by legislation."

Hawks Nest To Be Explored

Carrington, Sept. 3.—The Hawk-nest, whose summit commands a view of 20 miles around, is to be the scene of explorations conducted by the Men's club of Carrington, who hope to find some Indian relics of historical interest. The Hawknest is owned by George Aljets, who has granted permission to the club to make their explorations.

Experiments have proved that the earthworm has a memory.

BANDITS GET $8,000 HAUL IN MANDAN ROW MARKS OPENING OF POLITICAL PARLEYS HERE

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS BIG QUESTION HERE

TWO MEETINGS HELD Independent and Nonpartisan League Republicans Split Early Today

WITHDRAW OFFER
F. A. Vogel, chairman of the LaFollette campaign committee,
withdrew an offer made to name
a committee to confer with a Republican committee on the question of the status of presidential
made at the state capitol this afternoon.

tion of the naming of a slate of Coolidge presidential electors,
and the manner in which LaFollette electors shall be placed on the ballot in the fall election in doubt.

members of the state central committee named B. F. Spalding
and John Pollock, both of Fargo,
chairman and secretary, respectively. Mr. Spalding said he would agree to name a successor
later.

ports at the opening of a session announced as a meeting of members of the Republican state central embracing those favoring the election of Coolidge and Dawes, the committee got down to the first real business of today's political conferences here,
early this afternoon.

A committee of three was named
which F. A. Vogel, of Coleharbor, chairman of the LaFollette campaign committee, said he was willing to
name, to discuss the status of Coolidge and LaFollette presidential electors. The committees were to meet this afternoon.

The Republicans desire that four of the five presidential electors held by them to be LaFollette men, shall withdraw, and permit avowed Coolidge electors to be named. The LaFollette forces are anxious to have their slate of electoral candidates grouped with LaFollette's name in some manner on the ballot.

A number of members of the Republican state central committee, duly elected, gathered in the state senate chamber shortly after noon
today on the call of a voluntary committee composed of three members.
The meeting was called to order by George Robbins of Grand Forks.

Frazier Protests
Roy Frazier of Crosby, who has been chairman of the Republican state central committee, injected a
chairman until his successor was
early meeting, had recessed until 2
p. m. A rather heated colloquy ensued, during which Frazier asserted
he was recognized by the Republican national committee.

shouted Frazier.

Frank Hyland of Devils Lake, Lieutenant-Governor, jumped to his feet.

"As long as this lady is here you are not going to use that language,"
out."

"I apologize for the language but not on account of the threat," replied Frazier.

Mr. Hyland declared the Republican central committee members were present to do all they could for the Republican national committee, and suggested any not willing to join in
should leave.

George Robbins chairman and John Pollock of Fargo secretary. A committee consisting of J. L. Moore, Walter Bond and A. G. Diwet was named to confer with a committee
to be named by F. A. Vogel on the question of presidential electors.

Other matters to be taken up in the committee under the chairmanship of Mr. Robbins included the question of who shall be backed by
A. G. Sorlie for Governor—whether it shall be Halvor Halvorsen, Democratic nominee, or some other person.

Questions Uppermost
As the four separate political conferences neared an end here today, two questions became uppermost in the minds of the political leaders of all actions, which must be settled in

THIRD DAY OF MANDAN FAIR DAWNS BRIGHT

Are at the Fair, Secretary Says

The third day of the Missouri Slope
in Mandan with a bright sun greeting visitors. The first day's crowd—Monday—was about 3,000 in the day and 3,000 at night, and was an unusually large day, according to Secretary Tobin. Yesterday's attendance was small because so many farmers are busy in the fields. The present given last night was attended by
thousands of people, however.

hibit than ever before is on the grounds, it is stated. Swine exhibits are being shown, and cattle exhibits are entered from distances
Hannaford, North Dakota.

There is a fine quality of poultry
on exhibit, indicating progress in
poultry raising on the Missouri Slope.
The women's exhibit is declared unusually good, as is the display of Indian handwork and farm machinery.

Running races are the chief track
pageant is repeated and tomorrow night there are fireworks.

The historical pageant depicts early scenes in Mandan, and the scores
of actors in it were greeted with applause last night.

General Weather Conditions
No well defined storm area appeared on the weather map this

sion over the northern Plains States,
with high pressure over the Ohio Valley and over the Pacific Northwest. A few light showers occurred in the extreme west but elsewhere
the weather is fair.

Temperatures have risen somewhat
in the Rocky Mountain States; elsewhere temperature changes have
been slight.

North Dakota Corn and Wheat Region Summary
For the week ending September 2, 1924:

Excellent weather for farm work
prevailed throughout the week. Harvesting of all crops except flax has
sections; some early flax is being cut. Threshing made rapid progress
days during the early part of the
week caused corn to develop rapidly.

It is mostly in the milk stage, though some is already out of danger of frost. Much potato digging is being done in sections, with good results. Haying is nearing comple-
rain in some sections.

WESTERN N. D. SOON WILL BE FLOURISHING

Says It Will Be Able To

POINTS TO PROGRESS

District on This Year's Crop Is Told

"The western third of North Dakota will have enough money to finance itself, except for farm loans
after the present crop is marketed,
if present prices are maintained," F.
G. Orr, field representative of the War Finance Corporation and pioneer
man, declared here today.

Remarkable improvement in banking conditions is expected by Mr. Orr when the present crop is harvested. Three-fourths of the banks
cluding War Finance Corporation
loans, and the surplus over reserve requirements will be sufficient to cover the balances which will have
to be carried over by about one-fourth of the banks, Mr. Orr added.

"So this portion of the state will
the first time in nine years," the War Finance representative added.

"This remarkable 'come-back' from one crop is possible because of the fact that farmers' loans average small in size in this district, and this year's crop averages very good and prices are fair," said Mr. Orr. "In fact, there will be many instances this season when the proceeds of the one crop will be sufficient to pay for the land it is raised on, at present farm land values."

Organize Operations

"Another big factor is that most
farmers in the territory mentioned
have organized their farming opera-
the expenses of operation even on
poor crops and in poor price years,
such as have been experienced," Mr.
Orr continued. This has been done by milking a few cows, raising a few hogs and good flocks of chickens and turkeys, and making their first business to raise feed for this stock. In
farm would permit. Employment of
help has been discontinued and the
farming operations reduced to a point where the family does most of the work. The result is that the farmer
goes ahead by leaps and bounds,
financially, on a good crop and fair
reduction of debts."

Increased acreage in corn in the area constitutes one of the chief changes, according to Mr. Orr. He quoted the manager of the Farmers Elevator at Raleigh as stating that recently his elevator had shipped five cars of 1923 corn, which had netted the farmers over one dollar per bushel, and the corn had yielded over 40 bushels an acre.

Land Movement

There will be a healthy land movement in the western one-third of the state, Mr. Orr believes. Purchases will be confined largely to local farmers who have proved the value of the land by actual experience. Mr.
Orr quoted R. E. Trousdale of Mott as stating that last Saturday four different farmers were in to make preliminary arrangements for the purchase of quarter-sections adjoining their present farms and that three of the four said they would have the money to pay cash in full for the land as soon as their crop could be marketed.

PRINTER DIES AT CARSON

Carson, Sept. 3.—James Fulton, for many years a printer in this vicinity, died last Thursday, from a complication of diseases from which he suffered for more than a year, and which terminated in heart failure. Although it was known that he was a married man and had two daughters, the whereabouts of his family was not known until the day before his burial.

Fulton for some time published the Selfridge Journal, later working on the Shields Enterprise. He re-stab-lished the Leith Index for a short time, but was obliged to suspend publication after a year. When the Shields Enterprise was moved to Elgin, Fulton went with it, and worked on it when his health would permit.

Stark Has Bryan-Davis Club

Dickinson, Sept. 3.—Stark county
Democrats have organized a Davis-Bryan club, with A. C. Pagenkopf as president, Mrs. E. A. Lillibridge vice president, and Miss Eleanor Smith chosen secretary-treasurer. Regular meetings will be held on the second

POWERS PLAN PROTECTION OF FOREIGNERS

Battle of Rival Chinese Factions Is Raging Near Shanghai, Reports Say

AMERICAN ADVICES

Consul-General Tells of Plans For Protecting the Foreign Settlements

Washington, Sept. 3.—The hostil-ties between the forces of the military government of China and the defense commission at Ho Ta Yang began at 10 o'clock this morning, according to advices received from Consul-General Cunningham.

Mr. Cunningham also reported that the American naval forces were prepared to land forces along with the Japanese, Italians, French and British naval contingents, to protect foreign settlements, if necessary.

A. P.)—With fighting at Hwangtu,
near here, in progress at four o'clock
this afternoon between the contend-
Chinese governments, reports here indicated the battle extended to Awosang.

Although a large number of troops
are engaged in the conflict, reports
from Chekiang say that no material
side.

It is said that the engagements today are preliminary to a major battle at Manshing tomorrow, 12 miles from Shanghai. According to information from Lung Whi military headquarters, the third shot was fired at

FORMER N. D. INSTRUCTOR IS SUICIDE

To Have Caused Prof.

Grand Forks, N. D., Sept. 3.— Prof. John Adams Taylor, 40, formerly English instructor at the University of North Dakota, whose body
Niagara Falls, N. Y., committed suicide, police of the City of Niagara Falls believe, according to a news
dispatch received from that point.

Relatives have advanced the theory that Taylor accidentally fell off a Toronto boat.

Mrs. Almira Taylor, wife of the professor, arrived at Niagara Falls
from her home at Cincinnati, Ohio,
and confirmed the identification
made by relatives of the dead man
at Westford, Mass.

Prof. Taylor had suffered a nervous breakdown before being
granted a leave of absence about a
wife's home in Cincinnati after a tour through Europe. Relatives failed
to hear from him and went to Niagara Falls several days ago.

Prof. Taylor was born in Mass.,
a brother, and F. A. Snow of Lowell, Mass., a brother-in-law, identified
the body. Taylor's baggage was
falo, N. Y.

PIONEER DIES AT AGE OF 88

Carrington, Sept. 3.—Martin Clark, Burdulac resident since 1882, died at his home from complications resulting from old age, funeral services being held on Monday. He was born in Ireland in 1836, came to the United States in 1870, and 12 years later moved to the farm near Burdulac, where he has resided ever since.

LEOPOLD WRITES LAST WILL IN EVENT HE RECEIVES THE DEATH PENALTY

Attorney in Murder Case

Chicago, Sept. 3.—The last will
and testament of Nathan F. Leopold Jr., joint confessor with Richard Loeb of the kidnapping and murder
of Robert Franks, has become public.

That Leopold contemplates the
possibility of receiving a death sentence at the hands of Judge Caverly, who now has the case under consideration is evinced by a letter he has mailed to Clarence F. Darrow, counsel for the Leopold-Loeb defense.

The letter, which is seven pages
long, bequeaths to the Field Museum his first choice of any five objects in Leopold's ornithological collection.

Next choice is given to a cousin of Leopold, who may choose any
three articles after the Field Museum has made its selection. Third,
the Museum is given the choice of
any birds, minerals or transcripts
in the possession of his family belonging to the confessed slayer.

In the letter Leopold asks Darrow
to notify the beneficiaries as soon possible—and before his execution. The letter also thanked Darrow for his closing argument. Leopold wrote that he had been content
to die before he heard that argument, but that after hearing it he wanted to live.

The last will was scratched out under a code light on a light on a paper supplied by the jailer.

PIPE, TOBACCO PUT IN COFFIN

Julmbach, Bohemia, Sept. 3.—
(By the A. P.)—Old Werner Bauer farmer of Ebersbach, near here, enjoyed smoking so much that in his will he requested that his pipe and tobacco pouch be buried with him. When he died
the other day his wife honored
his wishes and of her own accord added a box of matches.

REDRAFTING ARMS PACT IS NOW TALKED

Premier Herriot of France
Meets Great Reception
in Switzerland

Geneva, Sept. 3.—Republican Geneva, accustomed to greatness with-
in its borders, rarely gets excited
over a distinguished visitor, but last
night it flung its reserve aside and
gave to Premier Herriot, of France,
one of the most enthusiastic greetings in its history. Huge crowds waited for hours to greet the premier with cries of "Vive Herriot."

Hundreds rushed to him and then,
inaugurating a serenade, sought insistently, though vainly, to have M.
Herriot come to the hotel balcony
and make a speech.

But there was another development of great importance, which possessed peculiar interest in the city. This was the redrafting of a pact for disarmament and security
by a committee of its American authors, who are now in Geneva, and
presentation of the new text to M.
Herriot. Professor James T. Shotwell and David H. Miller, at the invitation of M. Herriot went to Lyons to spend two hours explaining
the new American draft, which is attracting attention in all the leading delegations.

Prof. Shotwell, General Tasker
Bliss and Mr. Miller, working at Geneva, have put the first 11 clauses of their original text into a separate declaration which is called "outlawry of aggressive war." This declaration is cast in the form of a treaty so that the powers accepting
it may be bound to a contrary.

To this treaty, which limits as an aggressor nation any country which
declines the jurisdiction of the
world court when disputes arise between states, has been added an entirely new article whereby the signatories recognize that excessive armaments constitute a war menace and agree to participate in a permanent
advisory conference on disarmament,
to be decided upon by the present
assembly of the league of nations.

Then comes the first resolution,
by which the assembly requests the
council to call a permanent advisory
conference on disarmament, which
shall meet periodically at intervals
years.

The second resolution requests
the council of the league to establish
a permanent international committee
of investigation of armaments in all countries.

The third resolution authorizes the signatory powers to conclude between themselves a separate agreement which would be complementary to the treaty of outlawry of aggressive war.

Dr. Morange Holds Conference

Washburn, Sept. 3.—Dr. John Morange, superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal church for the Bismarck district, held the last conference of the year here yesterday. Dr.
Morange gave an address at 8 o'clock, the conference following immediately after the speech. A large number attended the session.

ly 200 plants and trees.

JEWELRY LOOT TAKEN DURING TUESDAY NIGHT

Albert Johnson Store Enter-

Entrance—Loss Not Cov-

Mandan, N. D., Sept. 3.— Cracksmen last night obtained approximately $8,000
worth of jewelry from the safe of the Albert Johnson
jewelry store in Mandan.

The loss was discovered
about 8 o'clock this morning when employees came to the
store to open it for business.

Entrance to the store was gained through a transom over the front door which the yeggs "jimmied." The dial
and combination of the safe
was knocked off and the vault
watches, which had been left
for repair, most of them expensive watches belonging to
railroad men, new watches,
diamond rings, a large number of gold charms and platinum pieces were included in the loot. Mr. Johnson estimated his loss at between $7,000 and $8,000. A careful check was being made today.

The yeggs previously had broken into the warehouse of
the Goodrich Construction Company and obtained the tools used on the job. It is believed that two or three
men did the work.

No insurance was carried except the detective protection offered by membership
Alliance.

URGES CARE IN SCHOOLS

Danger Minimized

With the opening of school in various parts of the state, State Fire Marshal H. L. Benda has issued the following statement:

"The school year has in some cases just begun and all will be in full swing very soon and it is the duty of all those charged with the equipment of all school buildings in this state to carefully inspect the buildings in
their charge to see that everything
is in safe condition and especially so before the fires are started a little later on. Furnaces, stoves, electric wiring, heating plants of all kinds in use, fire escapes, doors on
all class rooms and especially those
leading to fire escapes and exits
should be placed in good condition,
all opening outward, as provided by
law, and to protect the life and limb
of the children and teachers who congregate therein. The janitor should be required to remain at the school building during school hours.

"Special attention should be given
by officers and patrons of schools to see that the provisions of the Laws of the State regarding fire drills in schools are rigidly enforced, and, any
clerk who draws a teacher's salary
warrant before such superintendent
or teacher has certified that such fire
drills have been held, be punished as
provided by law. Too little attention is given to this most important matter. Let us all cooperate so that we will have nothing to regret in the
way of fire or panic in the schools
of North Dakota the coming year
and let us begin fire prevention by

Hawks Nest To Be Explored

Carrington, Sept. 3.—The Hawk-
nest, whose summit commands a view of 20 miles around, is to be
the scene of explorations conducted by the Men's club of Carrington, who
hope to find some Indian relics of historical interest. The Hawknest is owned by George Aljets, who has granted permission to the club to make their explorations.

URGES DIGNITY OF LABOR MUST BE RECOGNIZED

Halvor Halvorson, at Painted Woods Lake, Emphasizes Holiday Meaning

Points Out How Many Failed to Vote in Last Election in North Dakota

Painted Woods, N. D., Sept. 2.—Because labor is the foundation of all wealth and happiness, it must be justly remunerated and elevated, and its true dignity recognized, Halvor I. Halvorson of Minot, democratic nominee for governor of North Dakota, declared here late yesterday in addressing a Labor day celebration.

In a broad sense, labor includes our workers, whether they toil in field or factory, in commerce or literature, the speaker declared.

"No one depreciates the tremendous benefits humanity has derived from destitute the services and statecraft of such men as Jefferson, Lincoln and Wilson, or the humanity of a Nansen. Their contribution to the sum total of human happiness stand forth prominently as do those of many others through the ages.

"However, when this day comes to us each year, it brings more forcibly to our minds and consciences that great body of men and women who perform the necessary physical toil in all the various activities of life.

Obligation of Franchise
"The freedom of action and independent existence of labor is one of the great blessings of this nation, and as is the case with many other private labors of a Shakespeare, a Dickens, a Longfellow, a Poe or O'Henry," continued the speaker.

"Nor do the privileges we enjoy, seem so reasonable and necessary that we often overlook the fact that history is replete with instances continuing over the centuries, where that portion of the race dominated and enslaved to the then ruling classes."

"This year we are again called upon to partake in the exercise of the elective franchise, that privilege of a democracy which has ever been the cornerstone of American progress and the foundation of life for American institutions. No privilege can exist without creating corresponding obligations, and in this regard the American people of late have palpably been remiss. In North Dakota at the last election, out of the 320,000 or more legal voters within its confines, only 47 per cent considered the business of government of sufficient importance to register their will. It is plain under such circumstances one-fifth of the electorate becomes controlling. With such laxity on the part of our people, aggressive minorities rule majorities, and the very structure of democracy and self government becomes jeopardized.

Farmer's Dollar 60 Cents
For several years the agricultural dollar, and we are all dependent upon agriculture in this state—whether we work in the field or feed lots, in the villages or mines, are but farmers—and I say that during the past several years the farmer's dollar has had a purchasing power of only approximately 60 cents when he goes to buy the commodities which he needs to carry on his business.

"Some say that the farmer is himself to blame because he produces too much. But one need be no philosopher to learn that this doctrine is fallacious. There is no overproduction of commodities, and there never has been in the world's history.

"We have a nation and a people who produce in abundance, and if we will but apply ourselves to see to it that the rewards for service, whether performed upon the country, sides, in factory or counting house, are equally distributed, both prosperity and happiness will fall to every nook and corner in this great land.

"It is of the highest importance that in working for this result, we apply the rule of reason to our own local government affairs. Some stress the doctrine that business should be taken over by the government, and the people become its servants and employees. It is my firm belief that government is the best government, which governs the least, and that extensive mixing of government and business is a dangerous experiment and one which will work irreparable injury to our people.

Against Monopoly
"To my mind there is only one situation which justifies government in engaging in private business in competition with its own citizens, and that situation occurs whenever and wherever persons or organizations obtain such control over the commodity or industry, that they have in effect a monopoly, and because of such monopoly, are able to name, independent of costs, their own price. Not only the last democratic platform, but in the very creed of democracy, this principle has been upheld and monopoly declared to be indefensible and intolerable.

"The State of North Dakota, under the law providing for a state industrial commission, has the power, where such conditions exist, to take actions for relief, it was upon the claim of such monopoly in the milling of grain and trade, that the state mill and elevator was erected. And it is only in such cases that government should engage in business. And then it should be done with caution and fairness, and with a view of protecting the public from unjust methods. I mention these things to you because as a part of that great body, the American laboring man, who wields the largest political power in this country, I warn you not to be carried away with the theory that

WISER NOW

Josephine Gang, 16, has gone home to St. Joseph, Mich., a sadder and a wiser girl. For when the lake boat landed at Chicago, she learned her "husband," Harry Moran, was not a millionaire California furniture manufacturer, but a grocery clerk in South Haven, Mich. And then she was told he had stolen $100 from his employer and that he had another wife, besides. They had been "married" after an acquaintanceship of just two weeks.

government ownership is a solution of the difficulties under which we labor.

"In undertaking the task of governing ourselves, we must also construct a government which can operate without making such demands upon us to cover the expense of its existence, as to seriously impair individual well being."

MANY EVENTS TO FEATURE SLOPE FAIR

Judging of Exhibits To Be Arranged To Enable Farmers To Be Present

TO BE MANY FLOWERS

Indian Exhibit Is in Charge of Miss Lucille Van Solen

The floral exhibit is one of the exhibits that is to be enlarged and made more attractive than usual at the fair this year. There are a large number of people in Bismarck and Mandan, and in fact over the entire county who have been growing some wonderful specimens of flowers, and who plan to enter these in competition for the prizes that are to be offered at the fair.

Among the flowers that are to be exhibited are the following varieties: Gladioli, pink, white, red, blue, yellow; dahlias, pink, white, red, blue and purple; sweet peas, pink, white, red, yellow and variegated; snapdragons, pink, white, red, yellow, variegated; asters, pink, white, red, blue and lavender; nasturtiums, pink, white, red yellow and variegated; stocks, pink, white, red, yellow, lavender and variegated.

Thomas Killand of the Northern Great Plains Experimental Station will take charge of the exhibit. Arrangements have been made to pay the premiums in cash as soon as the judges have determined the winners among the various entries.

Mandan and Bismarck people planning to exhibit flowers in this department are urged to make their entries early in order to make a good showing of the opening day of the fair, Labor Day, Sept. 1st.

Judging Plans
Judging this year is to be arranged so as to enable as many farmers as possible to be present and learn the characteristics of the various breeds of animals and plants, to enable them to grade up their herds and products in a more efficient manner.

The livestock judging which is one of the most important is to commence on Monday afternoon and continue until Tuesday afternoon. There are a large number of unusually fine dairy and beef cattle entered. The judging is to take place in the livestock pavilion.

Because of the increasing flocks of poultry that are raised in the south western part of the state, the poultry judging work should be attended by a large number of the better class of farmers. The poultry business is one of the forms of diversification that has proved particularly profitable in this section of the country, and in order to enable a farmer to learn how to produce better poultry the Directors of the Fair Association have decided to hold off the judging in this department until after the livestock judging has been completed. It is considered likely that the judging in the poultry department will take place on Tuesday afternoon. In the other departments the judging will be as arranged so as to make it as convenient as possible for every farmer who is interested.

For Farmers
Farmers are urged to visit the secretary's office and learn the time in which the judging at the various departments is to take place.

The Indian department which is in charge of Miss Lucille Van Solen is to be an unusually attractive feature of the fair this year. This department is for Indians only, and will be displayed in a booth by itself. Any article not listed under this department will be exhibited and premiums paid in accordance with the money offered for the same article in other departments.

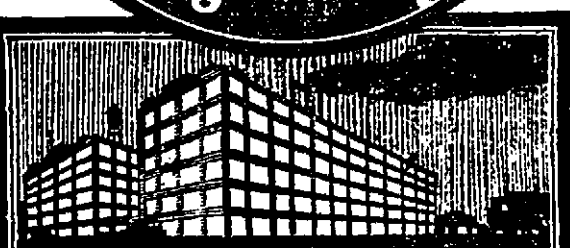

One of the features of this department will be corn with husks on strings. Yellow corn, white corn, and mixed corn. Then there will be seed corn with husks removed, dent corn, any pure variety, flint corn, any pure variety, and there will be a collection of corn by any five farmers in a community. Twenty-five ears of corn of each variety with husks removed.

Other features of the department will be the best bread, the best jelly made from native fruit, best jelly made by an Indian woman over sixty years, the best plain sewing, by hand, the best bead work, the best porcupine work, the best knitting, the best crocheting, the best collection of needle work by a girl, and the best collection of hand work by a boy.

The Most Extraordinary Farm Electric Plant Opportunity Ever Offered to the Farmers of This County

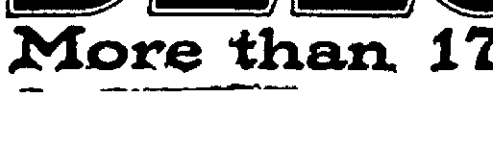

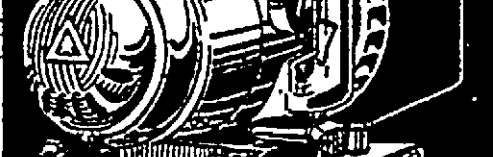

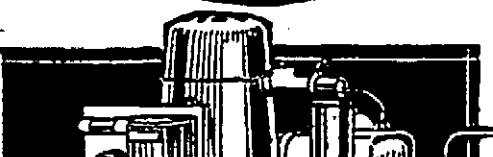

A Whole Carload of the Famous Delco-Light plants—Your Chance to buy at a big Saving

Notice

The Delco-Light Plants referred to in this special offer are standard Delco-Light Plants, fully covered by the regular service guarantee as to material and workmanship, and fully protected by the liberal service policy. Each plant has the famous 4-cycle, air-cooled, valve-in-head Delco-Light engine, and the thick-plate, long-lived Delco-Light Storage Battery. Any one purchasing a Delco-Light Plant as a part of this special carload order is assured of the same satisfaction he would receive in placing his order individually, — the same satisfaction now enjoyed by 175,000 Delco-Light users.

You have visited your neighbors. You have seen the bright atmosphere of their homes,—happy, joyous children whose lives have been gladdened, the mothers from whose shoulders the burdens of toil have been lifted, the fathers whose interests in life have been broadened, and whose profits have been increased,—all because of Delco-Light. And now, folks, I come to you with an amazing offer. Only a few of you—only those of you who will join me in a great project of co-operative buying can share in this remarkable offer. To you I am going to offer

Delco-Light—the standard electric light and power plant—installed, equipped, including the lighting fixtures, all ready to flood your home with the blessings of electrical sunshine at a price that has heretofore been unheard of. You can save by acting now.

Will You Join Your Neighbors In Buying a Carload of Delco-Light Plants?

I have made a proposition to the Delco-Light Factory. I have told them that I want to place a large quantity of plants in this county during the next few days. I have asked them if they will ship a whole carload of Delco-Light Plants direct from the factory to me.

I explained to them what a tremendous benefit it would be to me to have that many more satisfied users of Delco-Light in this county. These new users would show Delco-Light to their friends and neighbors and talk about it, and as a result it would help me wonderfully in selling more and more plants. The Delco-Light Company is willing to ship the carload, which will result in a great saving in freight. And I have added my generous bit. I will do the wiring at a ridiculously low figure. I will give absolutely at cost a generous part of the equipment that is needed to get the benefit from Delco-Light.

Are You Ready?

Due to this wonderful plan you can now have Delco-Light for less money than ever before—probably half of the cost that you expected.

Through the wonderful benefits of co-operative buying you can now give your family that joy and happiness that is only possible through electric light and power. The number of plants that we have arranged to get on this plan is limited. You will have to act quickly. You will have to respond immediately. But the terms are so generous, the price so low, the advantages so great that if you ever at any time in the future expect to modernize your home, to make it a better, healthier, happier place in which to live and work, now is the time to do it.

Don't wait one minute. Simply mail the coupon. This does not obligate you in any way. It merely indicates that you are interested, and we will send you full details of the plan; we will tell you of the wonderful savings, and quote you a price such as you have never believed was possible. Mail the coupon or telephone now. This is the first time such an opportunity has ever been offered, and it may be the last. Act now if you want to save.

MAN'S CONQUEST OF NATURE

Great conquests of the natural elements have been made by man in developing grains and vegetables so that they will withstand elements foreign to their natural habitat. Just now, with cold weather prevailing so much in a large section of the United States, threatening the 1924 corn crop, great stress is being placed in many quarters upon the continued development of "cold weather corn."

The corn belt has been moved gradually north from Mexico, through scores of years of careful cultivation by Indians, pioneer farmers and scientists. Encouraged by the success attained in the past, scientists now would carry the development of "cold weather corn" further.

Corn breeding experts at Cornell University are working on "cold weather corn." They have found that corn will grow and mature at an altitude of 12,000 feet with an average temperature of not above 55 degrees throughout the growing season. Corn in the tropics will mature at an altitude of 12,500 feet when the nearness of the equator offsets to some extent the high altitude, while in Colorado even 11,000 feet means perpetual snow, scientists claim. Tropical corn growing at that altitude has a maximum height of six feet, but is rank, green, and healthy in every respect, according to men at the Ithaca station.

The experiments are being carried on through crossing hardy strains of corn, with the hope of further developing a quick maturing and cold resistant corn. Great possibilities for the extension of agricultural life in the northern hemisphere are seen in a successful conclusion of the experiments.

THE LOVE OF THE "KID"

"Kid McCoy" loves and always has loved his mother, we are told. She says he is and always has been "a good boy" to her. At 2 o'clock of the morning, after the crime of which he is accused had taken place, he went to his mother's home to tell her that he loved her. Now he is in jail and face to face with a charge that may cause his death at the hands of the law.

"Kid McCoy" no doubt loved his mother as a little child loves. She was good to turn to for solace and sympathy and affection when weariness came and hurts and troubles. But "Kid McCoy" does not and never has loved his mother as the Divine admonition contemplates. Never has his life been guided or influenced by that love. "Honor thy father and thy mother" was not laid down as a rule of conduct for babes. It does not mean simply a caress, a tender word, a bit of devotion, a gesture of loyalty. Love, big and abiding and controlling, is its perfect definition. It means that man shall so live and so conduct himself as to reflect honor upon himself not alone but upon her who went down into the valley of the shadow to bring him back, a helpless babe.

Men who give such a love as this expression in their daily walks and living do not know free and easy morals—do not find themselves confronting the gallows, as "Kid McCoy" does today and as other men have done before him. Filial affection cannot consort with crime.

GUNS

But the increasing sale of pistols is dangerous—about four million dollars worth last year. We'll never get crime any way near control until the sale of "gats" is curbed, especially by mail order. Life imprisonment for owning or carrying a concealed or concealable weapon, with no mush-hearted paroles, would prevent a lot of murders. Disarm the criminals.

HERCULES

Chicago needs and takes so much water that the Great Lakes are being lowered to a level dangerous to the shipping prosperity of other ports. Cities are wrangling about it. Montreal's consulting engineer is enthused about the proposal to dam Canadian rivers so as to move a watershed that drains 20,000 square miles. The water would be shifted to flow into the Great Lakes through Lake Superior, at the rate of 20,000 cubic feet a second.

Hercules was a weakling. Just ponder this engineering job, showing what is possible by the pooling of men's power.

PANAMA

In a year 5648 ocean-going ships passed through the Panama Canal, says official report. Without the canal, they'd have had to make the long trip around the southernmost tip of South America.

Uncle Sam has been collecting almost 25 million dollars a year in tolls from these ships. Our national investment in the canal is paying around 4 per cent interest. Originally there was no hope of much profit, for the canal is primarily for increased navy efficiency. Becoming more valuable for enabling ships to keep railroads on their toes, by competition.

ABREAST

RUSSIA

Russia claims that her foreign trade in six months totaled nearly 263 million gold rubles.

This compares very favorably with 120 million gold rubles in the corresponding six months a year ago. But it's only a fifth of the pre-war average.

Crossing the street is safer than double-crossing a friend.

(Minneapolis Journal)

New kind, old kind, "shirt-sleeve" or "secret," whatever kind of a diplomat he may be, Charles B. Warren, has proved an effective agent for peace and mutual understanding between the two North American Republics. No doubt, the time was ripe for accommodation between Washington and the City of Mexico, but a wrong sort of Ambassador at the latter Capital might have further muddled the already muddled situation. So there is great virtue in good diplomacy still, despite telegraph, long distance telephone and quick mailing these days.

Mr. Warren has been scarcely more than a year in Mexico, but in that time he has transformed the situation entirely. His mission there was helped from Washington and the successful upshot of the negotiations constitutes a notable success for Secretary of State Hughes. Of course, if the Mexican President, General Obregon, had not been the man he is, the happy outcome could not have been reached even by Mr. Warren's dexterity. The Mexican President has demonstrated marked natural intelligence, and it is only to be hoped that General Calles, his successor, will exhibit half as much.

Mexico's progress has been hindered by the untoward events. But her day perhaps has not dawned. She requires, of course, American capital, as General Obregon has always recognized. He has striven to get the capital on terms favorable to Mexico and it can be said that he has succeeded better even than Diaz managed.

In like manner British capital is necessary to Russia, as the Soviet chiefs themselves at last recognize. Mexico, like Russia, has untold riches in the earth, mineral, agricultural, pastoral. But muscle and resources alone do not suffice. To get the muscle at work productively upon the raw wealth requires machinery and supplies and management. All the raw labor and raw wealth possible are not able unaided to get to work productively. Without capital and management the labor might as well shift desert sands and the ores might as well be buried under the central seas.

We Americans nowadays are disposed to think politics unimportant. We are induced to that illusion by our forefathers solved political problems for us. In Mexico unhappily politics is still an exigent matter. The basic political settlement upon which subsequent economic development has never been reached there. Maybe General Obregon has done the business. His work may happily be permanent. If so, then the economic development of Mexico can now go steadily on.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

NANCY, NICK & COMPANY

"I'm Mister Snip Snap," said the funny little man who had suddenly appeared beside the Twins the minute they had put on the magic shoes.

The Twins looked at him, so surprised they couldn't speak just at first. But then, as for that, they didn't get much chance. For Mister Snip Snap talked so much nobody could have squeezed a word in edgewise.

He was as thin as a darning needle and as sharp all over as a box of tacks—nothing but corners and points. Really one wondered that he didn't catch on himself sometimes when he went to put on his clothes. And perhaps he did.

"Talking! Talking! Nothing but talking!" he rattled on. "Talking when there's so much work to do. That's what you were doing when I came to hunt you up. Talking and talking and talking!"

"But really," laughed Nancy, "we were only—"

"There you go again," said Mister Snip Snap. "More talking!"

"Why, sir, you're the one—" began Nick, but that's all he had a chance to say.

"Young man, this is no time for words," said Mister Snip Snap. "Don't you know that it's time for the Meadow-Grove School to begin and that the children are running about in a dreadful state? I saw Mister Scribble Scratch, the fairy school-master, dusting off the chairs as I passed, and putting a new rope on the bell. We shall have to begin work at once, if not sooner. Follow me."

The Twins wanted to laugh, but they were polite little people. So with a funny little look at each other they followed the busy little fellow along a path through the woods to a little empty store house with a sign which said, "For Rent."

"Here's where we are to go into business," said Mister Snip Snap. "It's to be a dress-making, tailoring store and it's to be called 'Nancy, Nick & Company.' I'm the company."

As usual I do most of the work. But I hear that always before it's been your children who were the company. The Fairy Queen says you are to have your name on the sign this time. Besides, she thinks it will bring business. She says that all the wood people and meadow people like you so well they'll come right away to get new clothes."

"There! I just knew you were kind," declared Nancy. "For all you are so sharp all over, I saw that you had kind eyes. You can always tell people by their eyes."

"Thank you, Nancy," said Mister Snip Snap gratefully. "I'm really not as sharp as I look. I'm made up of pins and needles and scissors all the time, I guess you'd be sharp, too."

LETTER FROM ALICE HAMILTON

WHITNEY TO LADY BETTY CARNOVAN

My dear Betty: You will see from the enclosed clippings that my marriage to Karl was a very tame event, after all. Dad is still far from well, and some things came up which made it imperative that I should take place at once. It all happened over those beastly pearl beads.

I hate to confess it, but sometimes I think that Karl has a sneaking love for Leslie—Leslie, who always was one of those mealy-mouthed little of mid-Victorian sweetness. (Forgive me, my dear, for making an invidious remark about the queen, who is probably one of your calendar saints.)

However, you and I are much more frank and much more independent in our thought. I've always envied Leslie those pearls, and although Karl has given me two wonderful strings, I had a yen for the ones he had given Leslie. Like a fool, I set myself out to get them.

I knew what a time Leslie had and how frightened she was over an anonymous letter that was written to her about them some months ago, when I was abroad, so I conceived what I thought at the time was a brilliant, but what I have found out since was a particularly stupid idea of writing an anonymous letter to

Well, it kicked up an awful fuss. Seems that stupid husband of hers got very jealous all at once, and Leslie made dad's illness an excuse to come to him. She accused me of writing the letter, and what's worse, she practically accused me right before Karl. Then it was up to me to marry Karl and do it quick, so I staged another little drama.

I let Karl find me in the summer house with a small bottle of water marked "Poison." When I saw him in the doorway, I gasped out "good-bye!" and put the bottle to my lips.

Betty, I've come to the conclusion that I was not born to be an author, as we thought we both were, but that some day I shall be a great actor, for the thing worked much better than I dared to hope. Karl rushed forward, grabbed the bottle, took me in his arms and called me every endearing name I ever heard before and some I had not heard.

I told him I was afraid I was going to lose his love, and I could not live without it. I owned up that I had written the anonymous letter, but explained that it was my last desperate attempt to keep him from loving my sister or any other woman. Betty, men are easily flattered, aren't they? Even Karl seemed to think that if I loved him like that, he should try to make me happy, so he suggested that we be married right away.

We managed to get a license late in the afternoon, and were married, over to England to live. I think we will be quite happy. I know that I cannot live here, because mother and Leslie both seem to feel that I've committed the unpardonable sin. I don't think so, but I do think I have been incomparably stupid, and I sometimes feel that I haven't repented the full reward of that stupidity.

Lovingly, ALICE.

FABLES ON HEALTH

FOR CLEANING FINGERNAILS

"I wish you'd keep your nails cleaner," Mrs. Jones would frequently tell the male member of the household.

Though most persons who are careful of their fingernails already follow the foregoing practice, it might be a handy hint to mothers who have trouble with small boys and wives afflicted with careless husbands:

Fill a bowl with warm water and lather it well with some good soap. Let the fingers soak for 10 or 15 minutes. This will render the nails pink and transparent and they may then be easily manicured.

THE SUNSET TRAIL

(Florence Bonner)

When your steps are growing slower, And your hair is getting thin, When your heartbeats grow the fainter, And your eyes are dull and dim; When the things you once enjoyed so, Seemingly are old and stale, It's a sign you'll soon be going. To the place called 'Sunset Trail.'

You will find you have companions, And, like you they have grown old. As they slowly drift downward, Where the skies are turning gold; Some are tough and weather-beaten, Others forms are thin and frail, But they're going over forward. To the place called 'Sunset Trail.'

Drifting, drifting, oh, so gently, On the ever surging tide, Sailors starting on a voyage, On an Ocean vast and wide, Each of us must take this journey. From the cradle to the grave, Wealth can't purchase our redemption, Naught on earth has power to save.

Some there are who dread this voyage, Thinking that it spells their doom, And they fear the darksome shadows, As ahead they seem to loom; While they tremble for the future, Hearts grown faint from fear and awe, Thus forgetting Christ, the Master, And the Great Eternal Law.

'Going West,' some people call it, When we vanish from Earth's sight, But, we've only rent the curtain, That obscures eternal light; And if we have played life's game fair, Not a fear can e'er betide— We shall find a welcome waiting, When we reach the other side.

A Thought

STRANGE CASE IN BUFFALO

By Albert Apple

An extraordinary situation is discovered by the Buffalo police. Over in Italy a convicted murderer was sentenced to life imprisonment in 1883. He served 36 years of his time and escaped. Smugglers brought him into America. So runs the police claim. He contends he was pardoned by the king.

Three years ago he started a small grocery store in Buffalo. On arresting him recently for deportation, police made this peculiar discovery: Under his store, in the cellar, he had duplicated his Italian prison cell—a small room with one barred window where he slept at night on a hard cot. Electricity was available, but he denied himself the use of anything except a small kerosene lamp. This was his only bedroom comfort.

From this strange case we learn much about the power of habit. A man after spending 36 years in a prison cell, is "lost" anywhere else. The cell, however miserable, becomes home to him.

Occasionally there are similar cases in the news—where men, released after long prison terms, beg to be sent back to their cells, or commit crimes to get back.

What is home? It is a gilded palace, if you live there. It is the most wretched hovel on earth, if you live there.

Another way of looking at this Italian's case would be to assume that he was not, as he claimed, pardoned from prison. In which event this subjection of himself to a personally-created prison at night might be viewed as one way of punishing himself.

Is that not so with most law-breakers? But the man wanted by the police may escape arrest. But he is forever surrounded by the stone walls and steel bars of imagination. Memory is constantly punishing him for his crime, if he has conscience. If he has none, he still is in the worst penitentiary of all—the Prison of Fear.

In democracy we talk a lot about freedom. By which we mean chiefly political and religious freedom. But genuine freedom is enjoyed only by the man or woman with a clear conscience. A mysterious force is conscience. So also is fear. Both are ways of wise nature, to make us punish ourselves for our transgressions.

There is no escape from the remorse or fear of the haunted and hunted man.

New York, Sept. 3.—Schoolboys who missed many a baseball game and trip to the of 'swimmin' hole in boyhood because they were forced to practice music lessons, are reaping rich harvests today.

Music pays. Still boys who have a bent for music are bullied and teased by other boys.

Mischa Levitski, Russo-American pianist now in New York, offers an interesting observation.

"We used to think that the wrist-watch was a mark of effeminate taste," he says, "and if a man appeared in a street car or subway wearing one he was immediately the cause of undisguised merriment. The war proved the wrist-watch a convenience and the national attitude changed."

"But music?" The American attitude has a long way to go before it will find itself in the good graces assumed by the wrist-watch. Music, according to the average business man who has a smattering of culture, is for women.

"We've progressed far enough to believe that the wrist that holds the wrist-watch may have a terrific punch behind it, but that the same wrist may help to interpret the works of great masters and retain its strength—that is a matter for doubt.

"Music just isn't considered a virile occupation for a college man in this country."

With a Pullman ticket dated Los Angeles and a ring, monogrammed "C. H.," a well-dressed man of 30, entered a police station.

"Who am I?" he asked. He really doesn't know. He has forgotten. The officers are trying to refresh his memory.

Webster Hall in East 11th street, one of the city's oldest landmarks, was saved from destruction by fire when a baby in the family next door cried and awakened its parents who saw the blaze.

In the old days Webster Hall was a meeting place for New York society. Now it is the center of social activities for bricklayers, plasterers, hod carriers. Two nights a year the Bohemia of Greenwich Village hold rally there, appearing in sensational costumes.

its present muddled state. They are the attitude of anti-Nonpartisans with respect to a candidate for Governor to oppose A. G. Sorlie of Grand Forks, Republican nominee endorsed by the Nonpartisan League, and the method of the LaFollette group in seeking support for electoral candidates pledged to vote for him for President.
The "Real Republican" state committee, of which B. F. Spaulding of Fargo is the head, was discussing the situation at a conference, including both the gubernatorial and presidential electoral questions. No decision on the first question would be made, it was apparent, before the Democratic state committee had decided whether it would demand fusion support for Halvor Halvorson, Democratic nominee for Governor, or would be willing to go in to a state-wide independent convention for the selection of an independent candidate for governor without regard to affiliation with either of the old political parties.
The Republican state committee of which Roy Frazier of Crosby is chairman met early and it was plain that the Nonpartisans would be in control. Some state committeemen, favorable to President Coolidge, were prepared to demand that the committee endorse his candidacy for the presidency.

Democratic Meeting

The Democratic state committee was to have no trouble on the national situation, all members being strong for John W. Davis, but the state situation presented a puzzle. The committee's attitude on the candidacy of Halvor Halvorson for Governor and a platform stating the party's attitude toward state industrialism was before it. One tentative platform, which was presented to several Democrats in private but may not reach the conference floor, declared flatly for the closing of the Grand Forks mill and elevator pending action by the state legislature.

The LaFollette campaign committee, of which F. A. Vogel of Colebrook is chairman, failed in a meeting last night to settle the method of placing LaFollette electoral candidates on the election ballot. LaFollette had indicated his desire to run as an independent. Four of the five regular Republican electors were named in the primary as LaFollette candidates. It is understood that these four are willing to withdraw if the LaFollette campaign committee wishes them to do so and permit a full LaFollette slate to be named in the independent column. Mr. Vogel intimated that he knew the attitude for the four electors, but declined to state it.
Farmer-Labor Group
Another conference was to bring third party adherents together, under a call for a Farmer-Labor mass convention, made by R. H. Walker, state chairman. It was possible that this group would settle the question of whether it would favor LaFollette—its executive committee having previously endorsed him—or would back W. Z. Foster, named in the St. Paul farmer-labor convention, for President. It is understood here that Foster electors will go on the ballot in North Dakota.

Coolidge adherents were firm in their demand that the four Republican electors who were named in the primary as LaFollette men resign from the Republican electoral column, where their names would be bracketed with the name of Coolidge.

WOULDN'T BE WITHOUT TANLAC, SHE DECLARES

Mrs. Johnson Says It Has Been Like A Guardian For Her Health For Four Years.

"Tanlac has been like a guardian for my health now for four years and I wouldn't be without it for anything," is the candid statement of Mrs. John M. Johnson, 1951 West 3rd St., Red Wing, Minn.

"Before taking Tanlac I had suffered beyond words to tell from indigestion and had headaches that almost set me wild. My back and limbs pained me fearfully and I got so nervous, weak and dizzy I could hardly stand up. I was almost frantic from loss of sleep and felt that life was hardly worth living."

"But Tanlac made a new woman of me and since then it has proved an unfailing friend. When I feel the least symptoms of trouble a bottle or two of Tanlac makes me feel all right again. The world ought to know what a wonderful medicine Tanlac is."

Legion Show Closes

Williston, Sept. 3.—The three day American Legion indoor circus and today, telephone authorities here said.

The robbers entered the town about 1:30 a. m. The bandits left their automobile on the edge of the town, and four of their number went into the business district, leaving the fifth on guard.
The bandits encountered Henry Sankin, night watchman, and left him tied and gagged, lying on the street, unable to sound the alarm. They then proceeded to the bank, but being unable to force the bar on the windows, the burglars chopped a hole through the brick wall of the building. Apparently the noise aroused Keelin, who, peering from the window, saw three men under the shade of a flashlight. Grabbing his automatic he stepped to the front window, and opened fire. The bandits fled.

Mer Weather Reports in Canada Cause of Depression

Chicago, Sept. 3.—(By the A. PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS BIG QUESTION HERE

its present muddled state. They are the attitude of anti-Nonpartisans with respect to a candidate for Governor to oppose A. G. Sorlie of Grand Forks, Republican nominee endorsed by the Nonpartisan League, and the method of the LaFollette group in seeking support for electoral candidates pledged to vote for him for President.

The "Real Republican" state committee, of which B. F. Spalding of Fargo is the head, was to discuss the situation at a conference, including both the gubernatorial and presidential electoral questions. No decision on the first question would be made, it was apparent, before the Democratic state committee had decided whether it would demand faction support for Halvor Halvorsen, Democratic nominee for Governor, or would be willing to go into a state-wide independent convention for the selection of an independent candidate for governor without regard to affiliation with either of the old political parties.

The Republican state committee, of which Roy Frazier of Crosby is chairman met early and it was plain that the Nonpartisans would be in control. Some state committeemen, favorable to President Coolidge, were prepared to demand that the committee endorse his candidacy for the presidency.

The Democratic state committee was to have no trouble on the national situation, all members being strong for John W. Davis, but the state situation presented a puzzle. The committee's attitude on the candidacy of Halvor Halvorsen for Governor and a platform stating the party's attitude toward state industries was before it. One tentative platform, which was presented to several Democrats in private but may not reach the conference floor, declared flatly for the closing of the Grand Forks mill and elevator pending action by the state legislature.

The LaFollette campaign committee, of which F. A. Vogel of Colebrook is chairman, failed in a meeting last night to settle the method of placing LaFollette electoral candidates on the election ballot. LaFollette had indicated his desire to run as an independent. Four of the five regular Republican electors were named in the primary as LaFollette candidates. It is understood that these four are willing to withdraw if the LaFollette campaign committee wishes them to do so, and permit a full LaFollette slate to be named in the independent column. Mr. Vogel intimated that he knew the attitude for the four electors, but declined to state it.

Another conference was to bring third party adherents together, under a call for a Farmer-Labor mass convention, made by R. H. Walker, state chairman. It was possible that this group would settle the question of whether it would favor LaFollette—its executive committee having previously endorsed him—or would back W. Z. Foster, named in the St. Paul farmer-labor convention, for President. It is understood here that Foster electors will go on the ballot in North Dakota.

BANDITS FLEE WHEN MAN OPENS FIRE

Brownstown, Minn., Sept. 3.—(By Courier to Glencoe)—Five bandits who forced their way into the First State bank early today were engaged in a gun fight with a resident of the town, and fled without obtaining any loot.

NAVAL FORCES ORDERED TO SHANGHAI

Washington, Sept. 3.—Reinforcements from the Asiatic naval squadron of the United States, Great Britain, and Japan, have been ordered to Shanghai to protect their nationals in the expected clash between the adjoining provinces of Peking and Kaingsu.

The vast harbor of Shanghai is occupied by the ships of many nations, and Dr. Wellington Koo, the Peking foreign minister, after being told that every means possible would be employed to protect the various nationals was advised further by the diplomatic agents, the four powers, acting together, that a naval battle in those waters would not be tolerated.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER (Established 1873)

Great conquests of the natural elements have been made by man in developing grains and vegetables so that they will flourish in elements foreign to their natural habitat. Just now, with cold weather prevailing so much in a large section of the United States, threatening the 1924 corn crop, great stress is being placed in many quarters upon the continued development of "cold weather corn."

The corn belt has been moved gradually north from Mexico through scores of years of careful cultivation by Indians, pioneer farmers and scientists. Encouraged by the success attained in the past, scientists now would carry the development of "cold weather corn" further.

Corn breeding experts at Cornell University are working on "cold weather corn." They have found that corn will grow and mature at an altitude of 12,000 feet with an average temperature of not above 55 degrees throughout the growing season. Corn in the tropics will mature at an altitude of 12,500 feet when the nearness of the equator offsets to some extent the high altitude, while in Colorado even 11,000 feet means perpetual snow, scientists claim. Tropical corn growing at that altitude has a maximum height of six feet, but is stink, green, and healthy in every respect, according to men at the Ithaca station.

The experiments are being carried on through crossing hardy strains of corn, with the hope of further developing a quick maturing and cold resistant corn. Great possibilities for the extension of agricultural life in the northern hemisphere are seen in a successful conclusion of the experiments.

"Kid McCoy" loves and always has loved his mother, we are told. She says he is and always has been "a good boy" to her. At 2 o'clock of the morning, after the crime of which he is accused had taken place, he went to his mother's home to tell her that he loved her. Now he is in jail and face to face with a charge that may cause his death at the hands of the law.

"Kid McCoy" no doubt loved his mother as a little child loves. She was good to turn to for solace and sympathy and affection when weariness came and hurts and troubles. But "Kid McCoy" does not and never has loved his mother as the Divine admonition contemplates. Never has his life been guided or influenced by that love. "Honor thy father and thy mother" was not laid down as a rule of conduct for babies. It does not mean simply a caress, a tender word, a bit of devotion, a gesture of loyalty. Love, big and abiding and controlling is its perfect definition. It means that man shall so live and so conduct himself as to reflect honor upon himself not alone but upon her who went down into the valley of the shadow to bring him back, a helpless babe.

Men who give such a love as this expression in their daily walks and living do not know true and easy morals—do not find themselves confronting the galleys, as "Kid McCoy" does today and as other men have done before him. Filial affection cannot consort with crime.

GUNS

But the increasing sale of pistols is dangerous—about four million dollars worth last year. We'll never get crime any way near control until the sale of "gats" is curbed, especially by mail order. Life imprisonment for owning or carrying a concealed or concealable weapon, with no mush-hearted paroles, would prevent a lot of murders. Disarm the criminals.

HERCULES

Chicago needs and takes so much water that the Great Lakes are being lowered to a level dangerous to the shipping prosperity of other ports. Cities are wrangling about it. Montreal's consulting engineer is enthused about the proposal to dam Canadian rivers so as to move a watershed that drains 20,000 square miles. The water would be shifted to flow into the Great Lakes through Lake Superior, at the rate of 20,000 cubic feet a second.

Hercules was a weakling. Just ponder this engineering job, showing what is possible by the pooling of men's power.

PANAMA

In a year 3648 ocean-going ships passed through the Panama Canal, says official report. Without the canal, they'd have had to make the long trip around the southernmost tip of South America.

Uncle Sam has been collecting almost 25 million dollars a year in tolls from these ships. Our national investment in the canal is paying around 4 per cent interest. Originally there was no hope of much profit, for the canal is primarily for increased navy efficiency. Becoming more valuable for enabling ships to keep railroads on their toes, by competition.

ABREAST

RUSSIA

Rus' claims that her foreign trade in six months totaled nearly 263 million gold rubles.

This compares very favorably with 120 million gold rubles in the corresponding six months a year ago.

But it's only a fifth of the pre-war average.

(Minneapolis Journal)

New kind, old kind "shirtsleeve" or "secret," whatever kind of a diplomat he may be, Charles B. Warren has proved an effective agent for peace and mutual understanding between the two North American Republics. No doubt, the time was ripe for accommodation between Washington and the City of Mexico, but a wrong sort of Ambassador at the latter Capital might have further muddled relations already much muddled. So there is great virtue in good diplomacy still, despite telegraph, long distance telephone and quick mailing these days.

Mr. Warren has been scarcely more than a year in Mexico, but in that time he transformed the situation entirely. His mission there was helped from Washington and the successful upshot of the negotiations constitutes a notable success for Secretary of State Hughes. For, of course, if the Mexican President, General Obregon, had not been the man he is, the happy outcome could not have been reached even by Mr. Warren's dexterity. The Mexican President has demonstrated marked natural intelligence, and it is only to be hoped that General Calles, his successor, will exhibit half as much.

Mexico's progress has been hindered by the untoward events. But her day perhaps has now dawned. She requires, of course, American capital, as General Obregon has always recognized. He has striven to get the capital on terms favorable to Mexico and it can be said that he has succeeded better even than Diaz managed.

In like manner British capital is necessary to Russia, as the Soviet chiefs themselves at last recognize. Mexico, like Russia, has untold riches in the earth, mineral, agricultural, pastoral. But muscle and resources alone do not suffice. To get the muscle at work productively upon the raw wealth requires machinery and supplies and management. All the raw labor and raw wealth possible are not able to get to work productively. Without capital and management the labor might as well shift desert sands and the ores might as well be buried under the central seas.

We Americans nowadays are disposed to think politics unimportant. We are lured to that illusion by the very success with which our forefathers solved political problems for us. In Mexico, unfortunately, politics is still an extremely matter. The basic political settlement upon which subsequent economic development rests, has never been reached there. Maybe General Obregon has done the business. His work may happily be permanent. If so, then the economic development of Mexico can now go steadily on.

NANCY, NICK & COMPANY

"I'm Mister Ship Snap," said the funny little man who had suddenly appeared beside the Twins the minute they had put on the magic shoes. The Twins looked at him, so surprised they couldn't speak just at first. But then, as for that, they didn't get much chance. For Mister Ship Snap talked so much nobody could have squeezed a word in edgewise.

He was as thin as a dancing needle and as sharp all over as a box of tacks—nothing but corners and points. Really one wondered that he didn't catch on himself something when he went to put on his clothes. And perhaps he did.

"Talking! Talking! Nothing but talking!" he rattled on. "Talking when there's so much work to do. That's what you were doing when I came to hunt you up. Talking and talking and talking!"

"But really," laughed Nancy, "we were only—"

"There you go again," said Mister Ship Snap. "More talking!"

"Why, sir, you're the one—" began Nick, but that's all he had a chance to say.

"Young man, this is no time for words," said Mister Ship Snap. "Don't you know that it's time for the Meadow-Grove School to begin and that the children are running about in a dreadful state?"

Mister Ship Snap, the fairy school-master, dusting off the chairs as I passed, and putting a new rope on the bell. We shall have to begin work at once, if not sooner. Follow me."

The Twins wanted to laugh, but they were polite little people. So with a funny little look at each other they followed the busy little fellow along a path through the woods to a little empty store house with a sign which said, "For Rent."

"Here," where we are to go into business," said Mister Ship Snap. "It's to be a dress-making, tailoring store and it's to be called 'Nancy, Nick & Company.' I'm the company. As usual I do most of the work. But I hear that always before it's been our children who were the company. The Fairy Queen says you are to have your name on the sign this time. Besides, you'll be all the time busy people and needn't worry about getting new clothes."

"Then," said Nick, "for all you are so sharp all over, I am that you are kind and true. You can always tell people by their eyes."

"Thank you, Nancy," said Mister Ship Snap gratefully. "I'm really not as sharp as I look. I'm made of wood and pins and needles and scissors."

The Tangle

LETTER FROM ALICE HAMILTON WHITNEY TO LADY BETTY CARNOVAN

My dear Betty: You will see from the enclosed clippings that my marriage to Karl was a very tame event, after all. But it still far from well, and some things came up which made it imperative that it should take place at once. It all happened over those beastly pearl beads.

I hate to confess it, but sometimes I think that Karl has a sneaking love for Leslie—Leslie, who always was one of those mealy-mouthed bits of mid-Victorian sweetness. (Forgive me, my dear, for making an individual remark about the queen, who is probably one of your calendar saints.)

However, you and I are much more frank and much more independent in our thought. I've always envied Leslie those pearls, and although Karl has given me two wonderful strings, I had a yen for the ones he had given Leslie. Like a fool, I set myself out to get them.

I knew what a time Leslie had and how frightened she was over an anonymous letter that was written to her about them some months ago when I was abroad, so I conceived what I thought at the time was a brilliant, but what I have found out since was a particularly stupid idea of writing an anonymous letter to

Well, it kicked up an awful fuss. Seems that stupid husband of hers got very jealous all at once, and Leslie made dad's illness an excuse to come to him. She accused me of writing the letter, and what's worse, she practically accused me right before Karl. Then it was up to me to marry Karl and do it quick, so I staged another little drama.

I let Karl find me in the summer house with a small bottle of water marked "Poison." When I saw him in the doorway, I gasped out "Good-bye!" and put the bottle to my lips.

Betty, I've come to the conclusion that I was not born to be an author, as we thought; we both were, but that some day I shall be a great actor, for the thing worked much better than I dared to hope. Karl rushed forward, grabbed the bottle, tumbled in his arms and called me every endearing name I ever heard before and some I had not heard.

I told him I was afraid I was going to lose his love, and I could not live without it. I owned up that I had written the anonymous letter, but explained that it was my last desperate attempt to keep him from loving my sister or any other woman. Betty, men are easily flattered.

FABLES ON HEALTH FOR CLEANING FINGERNAILS

"I wish you'd keep your nails cleaner," Mrs. Jones would frequently tell the male member of the household.

Though most persons who are careful of their fingernails already follow the foregoing practice it might be a handy hint to mothers who have trouble with small boys and wives afflicted with careless husbands.

Fill a bowl with warm water and lather it well with some good soap. Let the fingers soak for 10 or 15 minutes. This will render the nails pink and transparent and they may then be easily manicured.

STRANGE CASE IN BUFFALO

By Albert Apple

An extraordinary situation is discovered by the Buffalo police. Over in Italy a convicted murderer was sentenced to life imprisonment in 1883. He served 36 years of his time and escaped. Smugglers brought him into America. So runs the police claim. He contends he was pardoned by the king.

Three years ago he started a small grocery store in Buffalo. On arresting him recently for deportation, police made this peculiar discovery: Under his store, in the cellar, he had duplicated his Italian prison cell—a small room with one barred window where he slept at night on a hard cot. Electricity was available, but he denied himself the use of anything except a small kerosene lamp. This was his only bed-room comfort.

From this strange case we learn much about the power of habit. A man after spending 36 years in a prison cell, is "lost" anywhere else. The cell, however miserable, becomes home to him.

Occasionally there are similar cases in the news—where men, released after long prison terms, beg to be sent back to their cells, or commit crimes to get back.

What is home? It is a gilded palace, if you live there. It is the most wretched hovel on earth, if you live there.

Another way of looking at this Italian's case would be to assume that he was not, as he claimed, pardoned from prison. In which event this subjection of himself to a personally-created prison at night might be viewed as one way of punishing himself.

He escaped from involuntary imprisonment and incarcerated himself half of the time in voluntary imprisonment. In other words, he carried his prison with him.

Is that not so with most law-breakers?

The man wanted by the police may escape arrest. But he is forever surrounded by the stone walls and steel bars of imagination. Memory is constantly punishing him for his crime, if he has conscience. If he has none, he still is in the worst penitentiary of all—the Prison of Fear.

In democracy we talk a lot about freedom. By which we mean chiefly political and religious freedom. But genuine freedom is enjoyed only by the man or woman with a clear conscience. A mysterious force is conscience. So also is fear. Both are ways of wise nature, to make us punish ourselves for our transgressions.

There is no escape from the remorse or fear of the haunted and hunted man.

New York, Sept. 3.—Schoolboys who missed many a baseball game and trip to the old swimmin' hole in boyhood because they were forced to practice music lessons, are reaping rich harvests today.

Musie pays. Still boys who have a bent for music are bullied and teased by other boys.

Mischa Levitski, Russo-American pianist now in New York, offers an interesting observation.

"We used to think that the wrist-watch was a mark of effeminate taste," he says, "and if a man appeared in a street car or subway wearing one he was immediately the cause of undisguised merriment. The war proved the wrist-watch a convenience and the national attitude changed."

"But music? The American attitude has a long way to go before it will find itself in the good graces assumed by the wrist-watch. Music, according to the average business man who has a smattering of culture, is for women."

"We've progressed far enough to believe that the wrist that holds the wrist-watch may have a terrible

With a Pullman ticket dated Los Angeles and a ring, monogrammed "H.," a well-dressed man of 30, entered a police station in New York. He really doesn't know. He has forgotten. The officers are trying to refresh his memory.

Webster Hall in East 11th street, one of the city's oldest landmarks, was saved from destruction by fire when a baby in the family nest door cried and awakened its parents who saw the blaze.

In the old days Webster Hall was a meeting place for New York society. Now it is the center of social activities for bricklayers, plasterers, had barriers. Two nights a year the Bohemian of Greenwich Village hold rally there, appearing in sensational costumes.

aren't they? Even Karl seemed to think that if I loved him like that, he should try to make me happy, so he suggested that we be married right away.

We managed to get a license late in the afternoon, and were married. Now if I can persuade him to go over to England to live, I think we will be quite happy. I know that I cannot live here, because mother and Leslie both seem to feel that I've committed the unpardonable sin. I don't think so, but I do think I have been incomparably stupid, and I sometimes feel that I haven't repented the full reward of that stupidity.

Lovingly,
ALICE. Infectious diseases often are spread by paper money.

THE SUNSET TRAIL

(Florence Bonner)

When your steps are growing slower,
And your hair is getting thin, When your heartbeats grow the fainter,
And your eyes are dull and dim;
When the things you once enjoyed so, Seemingly are old and stale, It's a sign you'll soon be going,
To the place called "Sunset Trail."

You will find you have companions,
And like you they have grown old,
As they slowly drifted downward, Where the skies are turning gold;
Some are tough and weather-beaten, Others forms are thin and frail, But they're going ever forward,
To the place called "Sunset Trail."

Drifting, drifting, oh, so gently, On the ever surging tide, Sailors starting on a voyage,
On an Ocean vast and wide;
Each of us must take this journey,
From the cradle to the grave, Wealth can't purchase our redemption, Naught on earth has power to save.

Some there are who dread this voyage, Thinking that it spells their doom,
And they fear the darksome shadows,
As ahead they seem to loom;
What they tremble for the future, Hearts grown faint from fear and awe, Thus forgetting Christ, the Master, And the Great Eternal Law.

"Going West," some people call it, When we vanish from Earth's sight, But we've only rent the curtain,
That obscures eternal light,
And if we have played life's game fair,
Not a fear can ever betide—We'll find a welcome waiting,
When we reach the other side.

At The Movies

THE ELTINGE
"Empty Hands" at the Eltinge theatre today and Thursday is from Arthur Stringer's story with Jack Holt and Norma Shearer in the leading roles. It is a highly dramatic tale of a man and a woman, the man a product of outdoor life, a mining engineer, the woman bred in the luxurious life of a city, who are lost in the Northern wilderness. The man wins in the struggle to secure food and shelter for both, but falls in love with the woman, whom he had formerly held in contempt. Her dislike for him also changes to love.

AT THE CAPITOL
"A Woman Who Sinned," a romantic photodrama, written, directed and produced by Finis Fox, will be the chief screen feature at the Capitol Theatre tomorrow. It is by far the most sensational and successful of the big-theme films ever produced.

The story is built around the pretty wife of a New England minister. She is invited on a yacht and held against her will. Finally she jumps from the boat and swims to shore. Upon reaching home she sees her baby son and husband praying for her, as they believe she has lost her life in a storm. Rather than face them—in what she believes to be disgrace—she goes to New York and eventually meets the man who held her on the yacht. Twenty years pass. The minister's wife has become mistress of the man who wronged her.

Mae Busch plays in a most convincing manner the title role. Other

BLAINE HOLDS LEAD IN RACE FOR GOVERNOR

Blaine, Sept. 3.—With every county in the state contributing to the total, Gov. Blaine, candidate on the republican ticket for reelection, with the endorsement of Robert La Follette was 62,899 votes ahead of his nearest rival.

Out of the 1,886 precincts reporting out of the total of 2,578, Blaine's total was 160,170 against 97,351 for Hirst, and 25,680 for Cummings.

Gov. J. J. Blaine was renominated on the republican ticket for A. L. Hirst and George A. Cummings, by plurality estimated to run between 60 and 70,000 votes.

Returns from 2,362 out of 2,578 precincts in state gave Blaine 196,480; Hirst 139,160; Cummings 31,528 votes.

Fred Zimmerman, secretary of state, and candidate for reelection with the La Follette endorsement, continued to make a runaway race for the nomination on the "Republican ticket." He has a lead of over 60,000 votes over his nearest opponent.

Zimmerman, although endorsed by LaFollette, did not have the support of Gov. Blaine. He is charged with lack of cooperation by Gov. Blaine, who gave Dammann his support.

Salomon Levitin, incumbent, also endorsed by LaFollette was leading Henry Johnson by wide margin for Republican nomination for treasurer, and had the advantage of nearly 30,000 votes.

INQUEST HELD IN HERRIN KLAN TROUBLE

Herrin, Ill., Sept. 3.—Sheriff Geo. A. Galligan and his deputy O. R. Thomas, were charged with having fired the first shot in the encounter last night between his force and a group of Ku Klux Klansmen, in testimony given today into the inquest of the deaths of six men.

Dave Fisk, first witness, an employee of the Fisk garage asserted that the sheriff and his deputy fired the shot that killed Chester Reid, who was an innocent bystander. Fisk also testified that he saw Thomas holding Green Dunning, one of the three Ku Klux Klansmen slain in the encounter, just before Dunning dropped from several bullet wounds.

He added that he did not actually see the shooting of Dunning, and could not say who fired the fatal shot.

NO CONTAGIOUS DISEASES IN CITY NOW

Health Conditions Good For School Opening; Fire Drills Empty Buildings Quickly

The city is entirely free from contagious diseases of any kind, according to Dr. C. E. Stackhouse, city health officer, and health conditions are excellent for the opening of the schools. At the beginning of the year a thorough examination of each child is made by Miss Esther Teichman, school nurse, and any child with a suspicious rash, or any symptoms of illness, is at once sent home, to prevent the spread of contagion. The child can return to school only when he has obtained a doctors certificate of freedom from contagion.

Besides this careful examination, the children are all given a brief inspection once a week, and the testing of vision, hearing, and the examination for the presence of diseased conditions of throat, and so on, is made three times a year.

For the protection of the children in case of fire, drills are held twice a month. The records from last year show that the buildings can be emptied in about 35 seconds, with the exception of the Wachter school, which requires 1 minute and 30 seconds. As the Roosevelt school is fire proof, regular drills are not held, but a few are given through the year, to acquaint the children with the procedure for getting out of a burning building.

Salomon Levitin, incumbent, also endorsed by LaFollette was leading Henry Johnson by wide margin for Republican nomination for treasurer, and had the advantage of nearly 30,000 votes.

Zimmerman, although endorsed by LaFollette, did not have the support of Gov. Blaine. He is charged with lack of cooperation by Gov. Blaine, who gave Dammann his support.

From Peaches to Jam in 15 Minutes

Simply bring fruit and sugar to a boil, boil one minute and add Certo. Then skim and pour—and everything is done. No failures—no long boiling—no worry. Certo never fails because it is pectin—the jellying substance present in certain fruits and in varying amounts—now extracted from fruit, refined and concentrated for convenient use in every home. With Certo you boil only one minute—save all the fruit flavor and color and one-half more than by the old, long-boiling method. Over 5,000,000 women used Certo last year. Note this recipe for

Peach Jam
Peel, remove pits and crush well about 3 lbs. peaches. Measure 4 level cups (2 lbs.) crushed fruit into large kettle. Add 7½ level cups (3¾ lbs.) sugar and mix well. Use hot-test fire and stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard for 1 minute. Remove from fire and stir in 1 bottle (scant cup) Certo. Skim and pour quickly. Use same recipe for pear jam.

You'll be happy when you use Certo with any available fruit. Make a lot of jam and jelly with Certo. No home ever has too much. Certo with recipe book attached is sold by all grocers.

GUARDS STATIONED AT PAVEMENT TO DIVERT HEAVY TRAFFIC

Attention is called by W. G. Black, chief engineer with the state Highway Commission, to the fact that the pavement between here and Mandan is open only for light traffic. While the concrete has set enough to allow the lighter vehicles to safely pass over it, it is not strong enough for heavy bus and truck traffic.

The pavement was opened to accommodate the crowds which are driving to the Mesquit. Some are driving to eliminate a number of accidents which would not doubt occur if all traffic was diverted over the detour over the two dangerous railroad crossings.

Special guards have been stationed at either end of the pavement to divert such heavy vehicles as they may think are beyond the weight limit which the pavement can stand, and according to officials, these guards are the ultimate authority. Any vehicle which they direct to take the detour will not be liable for not making the inter-city trip.

FINE GOLF FIELD STARTS

Pasadena Man Breaks Course Record in Chicago

Chicago, Sept. 3.—Scores of America's best professional golfers and a goodly number of amateurs today tried their skill with driver, iron and putter over the links of the Calumet Country Club in final preparation for the start tomorrow of the Western Open Championship and among the platters was Jack Hutchinson, Chicago, defending champion.

Many of the 226 entrants in the record field took part in an amateur-professional match but none of the players had strong hopes of bettering or even equalling the fine score turned in by Mel Smith of Pasadena, who shattered the record of the course in one practice round, with a 67, five strokes better than par, which had been the best score for the 6,614 yard course.

TILDEN WINS TENNIS MATCH

Retains His Title in Victory Over Johnston

Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 3.—William T. Tilden, II, is still king of American tennis. The Philadelphia racket wizard removed any doubts on this score when he swept to victory yesterday afternoon over his veteran California rival, William M. Johnston, and won the national singles championship for the fifth successive year.

It took Tilden 58 minutes to batter his gallant opponent into submission by scores of 6-1, 9-7, 6-2, which established not only his pre-eminent position among American racket stars, but recognition also as the world's champion, he having emerged triumphantly from one of the greatest international fields ever gathered together.

Big Crowd
A gallery of 7,000 had come expecting a keenly fought battle with "Little Bill" giving his rival a brilliant tussle. They had anticipated a real struggle between the champion, who had been forced to five thrilling sets yesterday by Vincent Richards and the Johnston who had crushed the Australian title holder, Gerald Patterson, in a sensational exhibition of skill. But instead the onlookers saw the super Tilden, the champion's racket genius at its greatest height.

Except for a spirited rally in the second set which he forced to deuce several times, and even threatened to capture, Johnston was out stroked, out generated and out classed. It was the fifth time Tilden had vanquished Johnston.

FIRPO BATTLE TO BE STAGED

Washington, Sept. 3.—Whatever the outcome of the labor department's investigation of charges on which the deportation of Luis Angel Firpo, Argentine prizefighter, was sought, it was believed in sources close to the department last night that there was little chance that the proceedings would interfere with his scheduled fight with Harry Wills, negro fighter, on September 11.

Assurance that the department was taking every means of expediting its investigation of charges filed by him and his associates against Firpo was given by William S. Chase of New York.

CONSIDER TOWN IN BUYING CAR

"The man who brings the most intelligence to the purchase of a motor car gives as much thought to the community in which he will use the car as to the car itself," says W. E. Lahr of the Lahr Motor Sales Co.
"A good car in one town might not be a good car in some other town. The stability, responsibility and facilities of the local dealer are just as vital to satisfaction in ownership as the make and model of the car."
"The manufacturer delivers a car to the dealer, but the modern dealer delivers dependable automobile transportation to the man who buys the car. To do this, the dealer must be strong enough to constitute a guarantee of satisfaction in the ownership of anything he sells."

Condemned Only After Investigation by Builders and Architect, Says Board Head

Merrifield Hall, the oldest building on the campus of the University of North Dakota, was condemned only because the state board of administration regarded it necessary in order to safeguard the lives of students and faculty members, according to R. B. Murphy, president of the state board of administration.

Merrifield Hall has stood on the campus since 1883. Sometime ago the attention of the board was called by University authorities to the settling and pulling apart of the walls, and an inspection followed. It was found that walls had sunk over four feet during the spring and summer months, up to the time of inspection, and there was further settling after inspection. One wall was leaning outward over five inches, according to the plumb line, and the pulling apart of the walls loosened several window arches, some of which had fallen out, the board's investigation showed.

Grand Forks and Fargo architects and builders submitted a report declaring the building unsafe. The state board's architect, according to Mr. Murphy, estimated the cost of renewing the footing under the entire building of from $45,000 to $50,000, but since the building had been valued by an outside appraisal two years ago at only $40,000 it was deemed unwise to attempt repairs, Mr. Murphy added.

"The board has taken this step (condemnation) only after giving serious consideration to all information obtainable and seems it necessary from the standpoint of public safety and the board's obligation to the public to condemn this building," Mr. Murphy said, adding that University authorities were ordered to alter the building so that the basement, the first story and a part of the second story in one section of the building can be used.

By lightening the load and strain in this way, architects have recommended that this part of the building can be used by constructing a temporary roof over the portion of the building that if left standing. A temporary structure has been ordered constructed to house ten class rooms and the remainder of the class rooms and offices will be located possibly in one of the dormitories and the cafeteria room, according to Mr. Murphy. The temporary structure will be of the cheapest possible construction, and material taken from the roof and upper floors of Merrifield Hall will be used in its construction.

Grain, forage and fruit exhibits will be larger and better than ever before in the opinion of the fair officials.

32.8 MILES TO GALLON GAS

Stromberg Carburetor in Remarkable Test Here

A public test made here yesterday afternoon with the Stromberg carburetor showed a Ford 1921 touring car with four persons in it making 32.8 miles to one gallon of gasoline. The demonstration was held by the Copelin Motor Company, under the supervision of J. F. Orchard of the Marshall Racine Rubber Company of Fargo, distributors of the Stromberg carburetors, and A. M. Monzell, factory representative of Chicago.

To make the test the motor car company invited P. J. Meyer of Hoskins-Meyer and F. C. Ellsworth of the Bismarck Tribune to ride in the automobile. Frank Williamson of the Copelin Motor Co. was another passenger. When they started the speedometer on the car registered 14,219 miles and at the finish it was 14,251.8 miles, the 32.8 miles being made on one gallon of gasoline. The weight of the four passengers in the car was 605 pounds.

In making the drive, the demonstration started just east of the end of the Main street paving and the entire distance was made on earth and gravel roads, many corners being turned. The average speed was 20 to 25 miles an hour.

The remarkable test has been repeated in many cities, the carburetor representatives declared.

VISIT BEAUTY SPOTS IN PROPOSED PARK

Beach, Sept. 3.—A number of cars made up an expedition which visited Sully's Springs, east of Medora, where, besides the remains of a petrified forest which attracts many tourists, is the splendid scenery in the Paddock creek country to the north, where the prairie breaks off suddenly into wild gorges and buttes.
Near this point is the greatest burning coal mine in the state, which was one of the chief goals of the trip.
The fire has already burned under a quarter of a section, and converted the prairie into a broken and weird country, giving a remarkable illustration of how, with erosion, the Badlands were formed. Sheriff Mons Stone acted as guide for the party. Other trips are being planned, which will visit all the points of interest to be included in the proposed national park.

EDITORS TO MEET NEXT AT VALLEY CITY

Work on Program For Semi-Annual Convention Already Begun

Grand Forks, N. D., Sept. 3.—Next winter's meeting of the North Dakota Press Association will be held at Valley City, it has been announced by J. F. Bacon, president of the association following action to that effect taken by the executive committee.

The exact date of the session has not been determined upon as yet, but in the meantime M. I. Forkner of Langdon, secretary of the association has begun work on the program, and the response he has thus far received indicates that there will be a good attendance.

At the summer session of the press association which was held in Grand Forks a few weeks ago, the executive committee was instructed to determine the place and time of the winter meeting, and the vote of the committee members was unanimous for Valley City. The meeting this winter will be important since it is desired to make it the heavy business session for 1925. The 1925 summer session is to be held at Detroit, Minn. jointly with the Northern Minnesota Editorial Association and will be largely given over to educational features.

Wild Oats

WHEN Dan took Evelyn in his arms and told her that he loved her she believed him.

In her ignorance of life she had no way of knowing he was not in earnest.

If she had known she was only one of many girls into whose ears he had poured the same sweet sounding words, what a world of shame and degradation she would have been spared.

"His False Standard"—in True Story

Magazine for October is a story of the sowing of wild oats—and the reaping of a crop of agony. If every man and woman could see the broken hearts and ruined hopes, the days and nights of remorse and tears that follow wrong-doing—no young man would trifle with a woman's love and no girl would give her heart to any man until she had made sure that his intentions were honorable.

Don't fail to read this thrilling lesson from life.

Other Absorbing Stories from Life

Here are just a few of the unusual features in the October issue of True Story Magazine

"Her Final Choice"—Nine, an orphan, hungered for love. So when Peter Hodge came into her life, she fell an easy prey to his seeming devotion. She little realized that in throwing herself into his arms, she was inviting tragedy.

"What Every Woman Hopes"—Living in the country, Madge thought no temptation of city life could ever lure her into wrong. But Madge did not know how easy and attractive each little deviation was, and how fiercely she was to have to battle for her soul.

"The Network of Fate"—When Janet concealed from her husband that his friend, had made improper advances toward her—she believed her silence the only way to save her husband from ruin. How she had to literally claw her way out of hell as a result, is a most heart gripping narrative.

"You Belong to Me"—When Avery Helson lured her into a loveless marriage, Alice was afraid to withdraw from an alliance that was loathsome to her. Had she been properly taught from her childhood days, what agony of mind and soul she might have escaped!

The Gage of Battle
In this country a mighty conflict is raging. Evil is battling to destroy all that is virtuous and good.

The weapons of Evil are deceit, treachery, cunning. It slinks in the shadows and attacks in the dark. Against such a foe, moralizing avails little. The fight calls for action—determined, fearless. True Story Magazine, as published by Bernarr Macfadden represents that kind of action.

True Story needs but one weapon—the sword of truth. If it can save others the tragedy of evil; if, it can show young people the perils and penalties of wrong—it will have gone far in its battle for Right.
